

Culinary Arts Camp

by Amanda Isaac

Alex Bernard and the participants of the Culinary Arts Camp cooking up delicious dishes in the kitchen. Photo by Amanda Isaac.

The Culinary Arts Camp is focusing on the students' cooking skills, and showing them possible careers in the kitchen this week. This is a post-secondary education program.

Here are the people that were invited by Program Director, Alex Bernard (Bethel) working with ANSEP, Claire Shniedler (Akiuk), Carson Miller (Kongiganak), Maegen Miller (Kongiganak), Daisy Carl (Mertarvik), Trishelle Sergi (Nunapitchuk), Tun'aqi Blanchett (Nunapitchuk), Zachary Angaiak (Tooskok Bay), Desiree Asuluk (Toksook Bay), Charity Blanchett (Wasilla)

Alex Bernard said, "The program has helped the students open their eyes up to the potential of kitchen skills. They have opened their eyes to potentially develop their confidence in the kitchen when they're not used to being around anything that includes cooking. The students are working on cooking skills, science between the big factors that make the ingredients for their recipes, photography and projects."

During the week, students from different villages had a field trip to the Myer's farm to see how the plants grow and where their foods come from.

According to BRHS Art Instructor, Jay Fernelius, this Friday, the Culinary Arts Camp will be catering a reception at the Festival of Arts student show upstairs at the Suurvik Cinema. This event starts from 4:00pm to 7:30pm You should go check it out!

AABC Senior All-Stars

by Kendal Herron

Last weekend, seniors Peter Crow and Ava Lieb flew into Anchorage to participate in the AABC Senior All-Star games. They were selected by coaches across Alaska. Ava and Peter both were nominated and voted into the 3A All-State 2nd Teams.

Seniors from across the state, who were selected by AABC (Alaska Association of Basketball Coaches) came together to form a Team Gold and a Team Blue, and they competed against each other. The game was held on April 16, 2022. In the girls division, the game started at 6PM, and for the boys, 7:45PM.

Another part of the AABC Senior All-Star weekend included a Dunk Contest and a 3-Point Shooting Contest, which all players were allowed to compete. All of the games and contests were held at Grace Christian School in Anchorage, Alaska.

Peter Crow said, "The all-star game was really fun, it was cool to play with all the best seniors throughout the state and experience a different playing style."

Ava Lieb said, "The experience was pretty cool. It was fun to play with the other top players throughout the state who all had many different experiences and skills. It was different to play with individuals who I have never played with before. Once I got used to playing with them, I had a lot of fun."

Science with Ms. Chmielarczyk
by Brandy Jones

In JH Science Ms. Chmielarczyk is teaching the students about plant and animal cells. They are learning about the cells because it is part of the cell unit.

Ms. Chmielarczyk said, “The students are learning about organelles of plant and animal cells. They were looking at their cheek cells, onion sells, and pond water through the microscopes. In the pond water the students found a nematode, snails, springtail, and a watermite.”

Richard and Jack Lincoln said, “Our favorite science project we learned about this school year was looking through the microscopes. We love science. We are traveling to Fairbanks to represent our poster on icicle and beavers. It will be our first time going and we are excited to meet scientists.”

Kemuel Latham said, “My favorite project was looking at cheek and onion cells through the microscope. I enjoy science class, Ms. Chmielarczyk is a great teacher.”

Constance Beans-Polk said, “One of my favorite projects was looking through the microscopes. We looked at pond water and found snails. I enjoy all the activities we do in Ms. Chmielarczyk’s class.”

Kristen Chase said, “My favorite project was looking through the microscopes, it was fun. I also enjoy watching Tim and Moby on BrainPOP.”

Aleksandr Ferguson said, “My favorite science project we did was looking at cheek cells through a microscope. I love science.”

Science class seems fun and interesting. The students in Ms. Chmielarczyk’s class seem to really enjoy it.

Mask mandate @ BRHS
by Sydney Lincoln

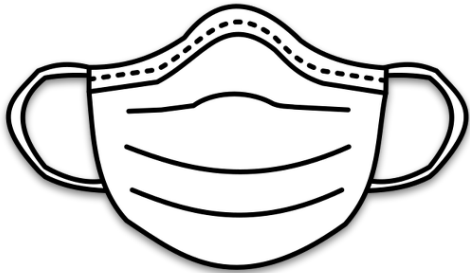

BRHS students and staff started wearing masks again at school on Monday, April 19. We are in the high range risk of spreading Coronavirus. It is a mandate from LKSD with direction from the school board to keep the covid-19 cases from rising and to help keep students and staff stay safe.

Principal Mrs. Miner said, “Many people are unhappy with the masks and think it should be an option, but due to my position, I am following the school board mandate.”

Mr. Fernelius said, “How I feel about the masks is that it’s not the most comfortable thing, but, I will keep it on to keep the people around me feel comfortable and to keep everyone safe.”

Mrs. Anaver said, “It’s frustrating, but we are trying to keep each other safe, and with the masks on, we can continue in stay in school.

The decision to make masks mandatory is based on whether schools are at a low to medium or high risk and will be reevaluated on a weekly basis.

Junior High ELA
by Lauren Cedars

Students in Ms. Tuckruskye’s Language Arts class at work earlier this semester. Below: Ms. Deem’s students discuss literature while walking around the room. Photos by Warrior Weekly Staff.

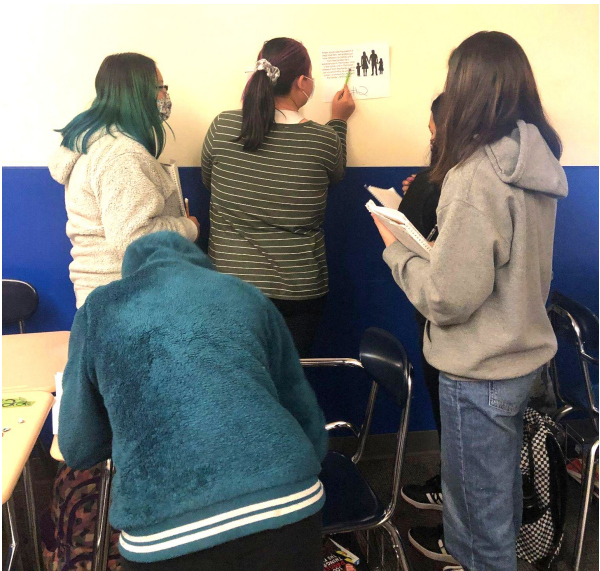

Ms. Tuckruskye is an 8th grade Language Arts teacher and the class is currently reading a book called Touching Spirit Bear. Ms. Tuckruskye said, “It is about a juvenile delinquent who chooses Circle Justice instead of jail. Circle Justice comes from Native American traditions and instead of punishing someone for committing a crime, the whole community comes together to find a way to heal the damage caused and find out what the criminal needs to help them get back on the right path.”

Students are also learning to write persuasive essays. They will choose from a few different topics having to do with the justice system.

Ms. Tuckruskye added, “I like teaching Language Arts because language is so important for thinking, understanding, and communicating, and isn't that what life is all about? I love to read, and it makes me super happy when I can help kids find books they love to read.”

Ms. Deem is a 7th grade Language Arts teacher and right now, the students are working on a magazine article about Teenagers and Technology. Soon, the class will start a screen time project where students will track their own time spent on their phone screens, make graphs, and write informational texts about them.

Ms Deem said, “What I love about teaching JH ELA is the students' energy, questions, and curiosity; laughing and joking with students; and how every day is something new and different.”

POETRY

High School LA students wrote the following haiku poems as part of a poetry unit in Advanced Composition.

The Night Falls

by Trevor Amik

The night falls lowly.
The starry sky blooms freely,
But no one will rest.

Green

by Kate Smith

Whistling winds
Rain falling off the branches
Storks clatter above

Rain

by Tabitha Prince

Rain hits my raincoat
Droplets hammer to the ground
But my tears are too.

Energy

by Charles Smith

Electric, clean power.
But with every volt,
A tree and fossil are burned.

Wind

by Kiley Twito

The wind howling loud
Twisting trees like candy canes
In the dark just me

A wolf's hunt

by Mason Fitka

My heart so rapid
This moose fleeing from me quickly
This kill is needed

Smoke

by Joseph Smith

She roams in a fog
Blindly she looked upon
With fear she trembled

Unforgiving Winter

by Fiona Phelan

Walking in the snow
He is one of the many
Lost in the cold storm

Mountains in the Sky

by Peter Crow

The mountains sit alone
High above the sky, watching
Until it's eyes go blind